

protein kinase c wikipedia - protein kinase c commonly abbreviated to pkc ec 2.7.11.13 is a family of protein kinase enzymes that are involved in controlling the function of other proteins through the phosphorylation of hydroxyl groups of serine and threonine amino acid residues on these proteins or a member of this family pkc enzymes in turn are activated by signals such as increases in the concentration of, cisplatin in cancer therapy molecular mechanisms of - cisplatin cisplatinum or cis diamminedichloroplatinum ii is a well known chemotherapeutic drug it has been used for treatment of numerous human cancers including bladder head and neck lung ovarian and testicular cancers, hif 1 pathway role regulation and intervention for - hypoxia inducible factor 1 hif 1 has been recognized as an important cancer drug target many recent studies have provided convincing evidences of strong correlation between elevated levels of hif 1 and tumor metastasis angiogenesis poor patient prognosis as well as tumor resistance therapy, cancer death causes prevention best - the oncogene most commonly expressed in cancer is ras which codes for the ras mitogen receptor which forwards signals to activate cell growth and proliferation through the raf mapk erk pathway mutations of the ras gene occur in 50 of colon cancers and 90 of pancreatic cancers overexpression of ras can also result in stress induced cell senescence, complexities of tgf targeted cancer therapy - figure 1 tgf signaling pathway tgf ligand is secreted as a latent precursor protein bound to lap activation of tgf involves cleavage of lap from the ligand which then binds to the type ii receptor and drives hetero tetramerization with the type i receptor, topical collection g protein coupled receptor signaling - adipokinetic hormone akh is a highly researched insect neuropeptide that induces the mobilization of carbohydrates and lipids from the fat body at times of high physical activity such as flight and locomotion, randomized open label clinical study of the targeted - the safety and scientific validity of this study is the responsibility of the study sponsor and investigators listing a study does not mean it has been evaluated by the u s federal government
